Empowering Business Growth

Linggard & Thomas Accountants moved into new premises in Nansledan on Stret Myghtern Arthur in September 2023, marking an exciting new chapter in the company's growth journey.

Linggard & Thomas is the partnership of two ex-colleagues turned friends, Samantha Linggard and Lucy Thomas. Since the company's inception in February 2020 they have become a trusted partner for over 300 clients in and around Cornwall and further afield, offering a comprehensive range of accountancy and bookkeeping services tailored to small businesses' unique needs.

Expert Accountancy Services that Help You Succeed

The firm provides accountancy and bookkeeping services covering everything from annual accounts to acting as an in-house finance team. They are happy to work with businesses of all sizes, whether they are a single sole trader or a multi-director limited company.

As Xero and Quickbooks Pro Advisors, they understand the modern benefits of cloud accounting, offering streamlined financial reports that break down the key figures you need to know as a business owner.

They work with a range of clients across many sectors, however being based in Cornwall means they have developed a large bank of hospitality and service industry clients, giving them a unique insight into what these businesses need to grow in competitive industries.

Linggard & Thomas also pride themselves in offering proactive business advice. They are trusted by many small businesses to consult on business growth topics that go beyond the numbers covering everything from business incorporation to plans for expansion.

Choosing Nansledan: A Strategic and Community-Focused Decision

Nansledan is an exciting hub for business growth and development, with a thriving retail and business quarter emerging alongside the residential development. The move to their new larger offices in Nansledan has allowed Linggard and Thomas to add new members to their team and expand their service offerings.

Owner Samantha Linggard said of how Nansledan aligns with their firm's values, "We love Nansledan and we've wanted to be there for a long time. It's all finally come together at the right time and we're enjoying welcoming our clients into a bigger, brighter office that we have helped to design."

"Nansledan is a great spot for our team, with two of them already living here. It's also easy for our clients to get to when they meet with us. But more than this we really believe that Nansledan is going to be a great hub for businesses as the area continues to develop and we are excited to be part of that."
